CS Mission Statement

Career Services for Arch + UD programs is a student-driven organization that strives to keep GSAPP in touch with the professional world beyond Avery Hall while providing students with resources to help them transition into the work force.

Services

- Career Counseling: CS Officer meets with students to discuss career goals, job searching resources, salary negotiations, practice interviews, resume and cover letter review, and any other concerns. All appointments are scheduled via e-mail: careers@arch.columbia.edu.
- Portfolio Review: E-mail Eugene Chang, CS Portfolio Mentor, to set up an appointment: ec2950@columbia.edu or visit him during office hours, Wednesdays 3-6pm and Fridays 1-2pm. Eugene is a 3rd-year M.Arch who received a Master of Interior Architecture from RISD and has worked at Perkins Eastman Architects for five years before joining GSAPP.

EMPLOYMENT / FELLOWSHIPS

Part-time Paid Internships - Jordan Parnass Digital Architecture

We have a limited number of openings for part-time interns currently attending the GSAPP. Jordan Parnass Digital Architecture (www.jpda.net) is a Brooklyn-based firm focusing on a mix of Passive House, Residential, Commercial, Retail and art installation projects. Interns will be exposed to all aspects of the practice, including design, construction drawings and field work.

Candidates will be expected to commit to at least 15 hours per week, and must have some previous architectural office experience.

Please send a single PDF with resume and work samples to: jobs@jpda.net with the subject line "GSAPP Internship"

Design Strategist Development Program - Gensler

Gensler's Design Strategist Development (DSD) Program is a two-year, in-office, professional training program geared towards high performers considering a future in design strategy. The DSD Program is focused on accelerating the development of well-rounded strategists, growing Gensler's Consulting practice around the globe. Each year Gensler will recruit a select number of diverse participants to work and train in one of the following host cities: New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Washington D.C.

As a participant in the DSD Program, you will join the firm as a consulting analyst and receive a competitive salary and benefits package. During this two-year program, you will be immersed in Gensler's Consulting practice, where you will develop key skills and build a strong foundation in core functions, systems, software, operational tools, and organizational processes. Upon the successful completion of the Gensler DSD Program, you may be eligible for a variety of job opportunities from across the firm—from roles in emerging Consulting practices to roles aligned with your educational background such as architecture, interior design, or urban planning. You may be offered the opportunity to relocate to one of Gensler's 46 offices around the world, where you will play a critical role in expanding strategic thinking in a dynamic, high-growth environment.

We're looking for ambitious candidates with a design background and a passion for tackling tough problems using unconventional insights into people, processes and the places where they collide. We seek graduates who inspire the people around them, who bring a fresh perspective to their work, and who can work collaboratively within individual studios and across geographic boundaries.

Application Deadline: 11:59pm on January 6th. To learn more about the program, please visit Gensler's website: <http://www.gensler.com/dsd>.

WELCOME TO ARCHTOBER

Archtober (ärk'tōbər) is New York City's Architecture and Design Month, the sixth annual month-long festival of architecture activities, programs and exhibitions taking place during the month of October.

Archtober presents special tours, lectures, films and exhibitions that focus on the importance of architecture and design in everyday life. The many participating organizations aim to raise awareness of the important role of design in our city and to build a lasting civic and international recognition of the richness of New York's built environment.

Organized by the Center for Architecture in collaboration with partnering organizations across the city, the festival raises awareness of the important role of design in our city and the richness of New York's built environment. Entrance to the Center for Architecture's Archtober Lounge and exhibitions are free and open to the public.

For the complete list of events from October 1-31, head over to the Archtober Online Calendar.

WEEKEND EVENT: OCT 15 - 16

OPEN HOUSE, New York

For two days each October, the Annual Open House New York Weekend unlocks the doors of New York's most important buildings, offering an extraordinary opportunity to experience the city and meet the people who design, build, and preserve New York.

From historical to contemporary, residential to industrial, hundreds of sites across the five boroughs are open to visit, with tours, talks, performances, and other special events taking place over the course of OHNY Weekend. Through the unparalleled access that it enables, OHNY Weekend deepens our understanding of the importance of architecture and urban design to foster a more vibrant civic life, and helps catalyze a citywide conversation about how to build a better New York.

Reservations for events begin on October 6 at 11am.

Current Work: Giancarlo Mazzanti

Each year The Architectural League's Current Work series features the work of significant international figures who powerfully influence contemporary architectural practice and shape the future of the built environment. Giancarlo Mazzanti will present his firm's work in a public lecture followed by a discussion with Chris McVoy. Chris McVoy is a Senior Partner at Steven Holl Architects.

Giancarlo Mazzanti's firm, El Equipo de Mazzanti approaches architectural design as a catalyst that "triggers behaviors and new dynamics, encouraging people to act in ways they will never think to act." For Mazzanti, architecture represents an evolving process rather than a static, finished object. See the Architecture League's website for more information.

Non-member tickets are $15 and are available for purchase through Eventbrite, beginning October 18, 2016 at 10:00 a.m., space-permitting. Please email rsvp@archleague.org with any questions.
