Planning and GIS Internship

Job Description

Philip Habib & Associates (PHA), a small multi-disciplinary consulting firm that specializes in civil engineering and urban planning, is looking for planning interns. The interns will perform a variety of technical tasks related to environmental and transportation planning, as well as other planning-related projects and assignments, including some field work.

Current first year graduate students enrolled in an Urban Planning program (or a related discipline) are strongly preferred. Ideal candidates would possess strong writing and critical thinking skills and would have a demonstrated proficiency with ArcGIS, with a willingness to learn basic Illustrator and AutoCAD. Interns are expected to work a minimum of 15 hours per week and the position is paid.
